

Port of NY/NJ Closing Due to Another Winter Storm

by Danielle Leonard - Tuesday, March 20, 2018

Another significant winter storm is expected to hit New York, New Jersey, and Newark beginning this evening and continuing into Thursday, 3/22. As a result, the port of New York & New Jersey has closed all marine terminals for 3/21. We expect most facilities to announce similar closures for Wednesday. Depending on the nature of the storm, closings could extend into Thursday, 3/22. Shipping delays should be expected.

If you have any questions or want to check on any impact to your cargo, please reach out to your local Mohawk customer service representative.
